How to make recycled paper

What you need:

- old newspapers

- a blender

- water

- white glue

- a tray

- a hanger

- a pair of tights

Steps:

1. First, tear some old newspapers into small pieces and put them in the blender.
2. Put some water into the blender and turn it on. Blend until the mixture turns creamy.
3. Then, add a little white glue to the mixture.
4. Pour the mixture into the flat tray.
5. Dip the frame* into the mixture and lift it slowly.
6. Place the frame under the sun for half a day.
7. Gently peel off the recycled paper from the frame.

* You need a frame to make each piece of recycled paper. Bend a hanger into the shape of a rectangle. Tightly stretch one leg of a pair of tights over the rectangular frame.

I watched a movie about recycling at school today. I learned it is important to care for the environment. Later, we put different things into the recycling bins. It was fun!

After school, I wanted to tidy my messy room and recycle 5 unwanted things. First, I put all the chocolate wrappers and empty potato chip packets into the rubbish bin because we cannot recycle them.

Then, I collected the empty soft drink cans. I rinsed them out with water.

Next, I picked up all my waste paper and old magazines and tied them up with string. I then put the waste paper and old magazines in a big cardboard box.

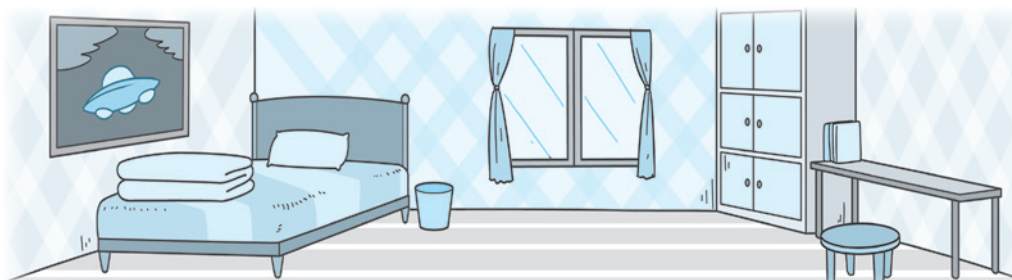

After that, I gathered all the plastic bags and put them in a big red plastic bag.

Finally, Mum and Dad helped me put everything into a trolley. We went downstairs and put the cans in the yellow recycling bin, the waste paper in the blue bin and the bottles in the brown bin. I also flattened the cardboard box and put it in the recycling bin.

My room is very tidy now and I feel glad because I am a friend of the environment.
